

BeckyFest

EMPOWERING WOMEN IN MUSIC

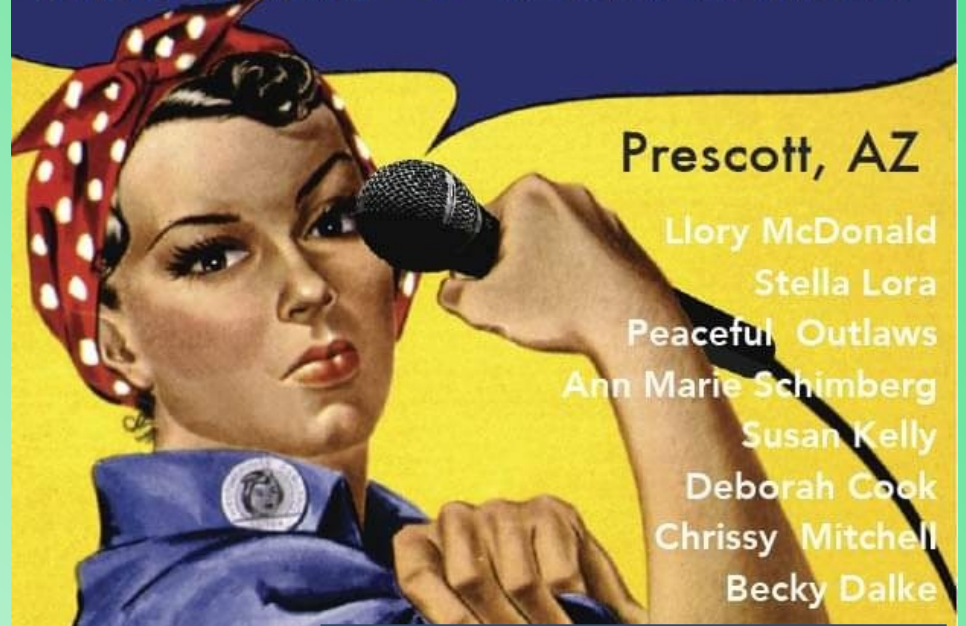

Prescott, AZ

Llory McDonald
Stella Lora
Peaceful Outlaws
Ann Marie Schimberg
Susan Kelly
Deborah Cook
Chrissy Mitchell
Becky Dalke

BeckyFest

EMPOWERING WOMEN IN MUSIC

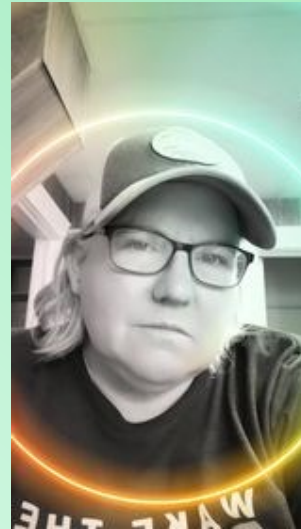

Prescott, AZ

Llory McDonald
Stella Lora
Peaceful Outlaws
Ann Marie Schimberg
Susan Kelly
Deborah Cook
Chrissy Mitchell
Becky Dalke

facebook.com/Beckyfest

facebook.com/Beckyfest

Becky has been playing music since the moment she was able to hold wooden spoons and bang on pots and pans. She started playing drums at the age of 10 and has continued to play for over 40 years. She plays everything from drum kit to percussion and then some. Rhythms, Beats or just the blood pumping through her veins keeps her going. She started playing guitar in High School but didn't get serious about guitar until the late 90's. When she turned 30 she started playing more and more . That was the time when she found her voice and started writing songs. Becky has played in many bands, playing drums mostly, during the years. From local bands such as the Acrylics (PHX), Lives of the Monster Dogs (Atlanta GA) to playing drums and backup vocals for Teneia , Blaine Long and Haven James. Becky is also a singer/songwriter with several original recordings and has been nominated for a Bucky Award (as outstanding musician in Prescott) for the last 2 years. She performs at venues here in Prescott and throughout Arizona. Becky has opened up for Lucinda Williams (playing drums for Teneia Sanders, Chickstock 2012), Amy LaVere (with Haven James), Holly Near (with the duo Two Girls) and Sarah Bettens (Solo - Pride in the Pines). Becky has continued to learn more and more about song-writing, playing guitar, collaborating with other musicians and enjoying life doing the one thing that she loves, playing music and bringing joy to those who listen. Becky started a monthly show in her home town Prescott AZ, featuring and empowering women artists and giving them a place to share their music and art with everyone. Her friends have coined this show "BeckyFest" . "BeckyFest" was started in 2011 on September 11th and has been going strong ever since. In September of 2012 she celebrated BeckyFest's 1year Anniversary by having a show to help her fellow Musical sister, Llory McDonald, in her fight against Breast Cancer. This is one way of helping, not only her musical sisters, but to help the women in her community. Through the years this monthly show went from once a month to every other month to now once a year. She hopes to one day be able to take her BeckyFest show on the road and help to empower other women, in small towns, so their voices can be heard .

Becky has been playing music since the moment she was able to hold wooden spoons and bang on pots and pans. She started playing drums at the age of 10 and has continued to play for over 40 years. She plays everything from drum kit to percussion and then some. Rhythms, Beats or just the blood pumping through her veins keeps her going. She started playing guitar in High School but didn't get serious about guitar until the late 90's. When she turned 30 she started playing more and more . That was the time when she found her voice and started writing songs. Becky has played in many bands, playing drums mostly, during the years. From local bands such as the Acrylics (PHX), Lives of the Monster Dogs (Atlanta GA) to playing drums and backup vocals for Teneia , Blaine Long and Haven James. Becky is also a singer/songwriter with several original recordings and has been nominated for a Bucky Award (as outstanding musician in Prescott) for the last 2 years. She performs at venues here in Prescott and throughout Arizona. Becky has opened up for Lucinda Williams (playing drums for Teneia Sanders, Chickstock 2012), Amy LaVere (with Haven James), Holly Near (with the duo Two Girls) and Sarah Bettens (Solo - Pride in the Pines). Becky has continued to learn more and more about song-writing, playing guitar, collaborating with other musicians and enjoying life doing the one thing that she loves, playing music and bringing joy to those who listen. Becky started a monthly show in her home town Prescott AZ, featuring and empowering women artists and giving them a place to share their music and art with everyone. Her friends have coined this show "BeckyFest" . "BeckyFest" was started in 2011 on September 11th and has been going strong ever since. In September of 2012 she celebrated BeckyFest's 1year Anniversary by having a show to help her fellow Musical sister, Llory McDonald, in her fight against Breast Cancer. This is one way of helping, not only her musical sisters, but to help the women in her community. Through the years this monthly show went from once a month to every other month to now once a year. She hopes to one day be able to take her BeckyFest show on the road and help to empower other women, in small towns, so their voices can be heard .